BOILS AND CARBUNCLES. "Our criminals are systematic. They are the balls and carbancles on the body politic which indicate its fearfully dispolitic which indicate its rearroing dis-eased condition. They are the outgrowth of a moral depravity which covers the land from boundary to boundary."

In speaking of the causes which pro-duce criminals, Dr. Hawthorne said:

"One cause is to be found in the lack of wholesome parental teaching, example discipline. For many years there been but little of that wise and virtumoral ideas and principles which marked the domestic life of other days. Children their grandfathers and grandmothers was Puritanical and cruelly rigid, and that boys and girls who have entered their teens are competent to govern themselves. Such false teaching and laxity of discipline is sure to yield a harvest of social corruption and crime. The boy who does not regard parental authority will not re-epect the authority of the State and rep-resents the material out of which crimi-

BLAMES MINISTERS.

"The pulpit has not done its duty. It has had unworthy conceptions of the spirit, purposes and scope or the Christian religion. Its application of Gospel truth to human affairs has been too limited. Thousands of ministers have been frightened by the current cant about political preaching. The prostitution of the pulpit to the political preaching. The prostitution of the pulpit to the service of the political party cannot be too severely condemned, but the minister of the Gospel who is afraid to preach the truth of God as it relates to the politics of his country is unworthy of his vocation. Christ's ser-mon on the Mount deals with great social and political questions, and proclaims the ethical principles which should guids on which all political government should be based. The mission of the Gospel preacher is to leaven all thought with the thought of God, and all life with the life of God, and all life with the life of God. The minister who is afraid to discuss Christian truth in its relation to Guardinal systems, commercial enter.

Cucationa' systems, commercial enter-prises and political parties and measures, is the mere negation of a true ambassa-dor of Jesus Christ. If the pulpit had been faithful in the application of the ethics of the Gospel to the commercial life of our people, to the conduct of their political leaders and the methods and movements of their political parties, such corruption as we have seen in business, politics and government could not have existed.

THOSE RESPONSIBLE.

Every man who is guilty of any sort of commercial or political fraud, or who winks at it in others, or who falls to smite it when it is uncovered, is responsible for the crimes of our country. You think it an awful thing to steal. You mink it an awful thing to steal. You believe that such conduct deserves to be branded with disgrace and severely punished by the civil authorities. But while you are fulminating your wrath against thieves, do not neglect to see whether wrong lies at your own door. Every merchant who gives short measure, or deals in fraudulent goods, or deceives his customers in regard to the quality and value of his goods, has helped to make the villains who rob money drawers, banklains who rob money drawers, bank-vaults and State treasuries. These su-perlative thieves, upon whom we fasten the felon's badge and consign to the State's prison, are the creations of a vast army of comparative thieves that go un-whipped of justice. Think ye that the Tweeds, Benknaps, Wards, Vincents, and Tweeds, Benknaps, Wards, Vincents, and Polks are sinners above all the men of this land? Nay! I say to any man who has taken advantage of his neighbor in a business transaction, to any man who hides his property from the sherili to avoid the payment of his debts, to any man who deceives a tax assessor about the value of his taxable possessions, that he is as guilty before God as the culprit who has been convicted of crime and sentenced to hard labor. It is the low standard of integrity in business circles generally that has helped to make the ast army of thieves now in the custody our government.

CANDIDATE'S VIEWS.

"Recently, a candidate for a municipal office declared, in a public address, that "a city government coup and be run upon Sunday-School principles." What did mean by that? Ite meant that in the administration of civil government the morality of the Bible should be repudiated or ignored. He meant that if he administration of civil government the morality of the Bible should be repudiated. or ignored. He meant that if he should be elected to the office which he covered, he would adopt a standard of official integrity that would accommodate bar-keepers, gamblers, harlots, and every people fall to remove him from the po-sition which he holds, it is because their own moral standard is disgracefully low

"We have upon our State and municipal statute book laws which forbid bar rooms to do business on Sunday. Why are they not enforced? One reason is to be found in the lack of moral integrity in those who are charged with the responsibility of executing them, and who soubts that the failure to execute the laws of the land is profile of crime. Another can defy the State with impunity, why may not bigamists, counterfelters, and thickes attempt it?

WHAT IS THE REMEDY. "What is the remedy for this condi-tion of things? Some would say, Pun-ish the culprits, expose their knavery, proclaim it from the housetops, publish it to the world, hold them up to universal scorn and reprobation." That is only a scorn and reprobation.' That is only family, in the common schools, in the colsanctum, in the church and in the pulpit in all of these places greater emphasimust be given to the everlasting distinctions, which God Almighty makes be ong the masses of our people. nies to the peace and welfare of his country.
